Claims 1 to 5:

Claims 1 to 5 meet the requirements of PCT Articles 33(2) – (4). None of the prior art documents, or obvious combination thereof, disclose a water chamber with an elongate flow tube, wherein an opening at the distal end of the flow tube is transverse to an axis of the tube, the transverse direction not being downwards. The closest art of

has the distal opening of the flow tube facing downwards. The person skilled in the art would not consider changing the direction of the distal opening of the flow tube in the citation because the direction of the opening is essential for the device of the citation to work.
